“ Sorry that I didn't take the time to come around more and get to see how wonderful of a person you are for myself. I haven't really seen you since you were little. It's heart breaking that your precious life on earth had to end so soon. Rest well love 💕💕

“ We were your first Kansas family and remained family from that day on. I would see you and all we could do was just laugh at each other after awhile. A lot of laughing, smiles, and me fussing of course. I'll fuss some more when I see you again. Travel well, rest well. We all love you from your first days until your last...and beyond. Your spirit will live on in our heartbeats. See you later Big Head.

“ Javon you were such a wonderful and giving young man! I remember the first time my son TB brought you to the house so polite. I use to tell you boys watch out for those thirsty girls and you would laugh and say yes ma'am, oh how I will miss that contagious smile and laugh! I still can't believe your life was stolen and everyone who knew you was robbed! You watch over your mama and siblings and I still believe your going to do big things your just doing them with the Angels now!

“ It took us a little while to learn to understand each other, but I most appreciated your honesty with me. Once we realized we were on the same page about the love and caring of the family, we had a nice bond. Going to most definitely miss that contagious smile.

“ I once heard that when one of our loved ones fall asleep in death, we shouldn't put a period at the end of their life. Instead, we should use an ellipses... these simple, yet profound 3 dots means that a continuation is to be expected. That we can look forward to more to come. Although, his time in this world was cut much too short and far too soon, I relish in the promise that our best memories hasn't even happened yet. He's been in my heart since before he was born and there he will remain! Until we meet again Nephew...

“ I didn't know Javon well. I only spoke to him a couple of times. When I'd see him, I loved watching him with Tyler. They had such an amazing relationship. That is exactly what I will always remember about him. Chudney, Dorothy, and the rest of your family, I'm so sorry for your loss.
