“ We are infinite energy. We are spirit embodied. When we die, we drop the body, BUT the spirit, the soul, continues and lives on! Energy can't be destroyed..it only changes form! May your energy flow through us all..We love you and will miss you on this side, but may we rest assured that you will be with us always! Loving..guiding..standing in the gap.. Rest peacefully aunt Learline!
♥ Ashe Queen you've earned your crown!

“ I only met you once and I knew then that you were everything and more that Scottie always had told me about you. You were such a sweetheart and you welcomed me with open arms when we met. I wish we got another chance to be able to sit down and just talk like we did. I Thank you for all the wonderful memories you shared with my husband and everything you instilled him that contributes to the man he is today. I know her is so grateful and you meant so much to him. We love you.

“ To one of my favorite aunt's. I will be missing you dearly as I sat at my desk shedding tears of sorrow happiness and thank God for letting you be here on earth until due time. I will miss seeing you when I come to Dalton to see you on my bdays and when I come to family reunion. I will miss those calls asking me how many cakes I cooked for Thanksgiving and Christmas lol. I WILL MISS YOU DEARLY.

As I reflect, I think of about how close-knit my mom, Dorothy B. Sims and cousin Learline was. They were so close until we always called her aunt Learline instead of cousin Learline. They stayed in touch with each other. It was Learline, Colean, Maxine, Dorothy, Bernice, Ernestine. Growing up we knew about our male cousins, also, Leroy, Jr., Vada, Jr., and Marvin. Mom made us feel like we were in the best family ever. Great family memories. 🌹🌹🌹
