“ Dear Chair,

As I think of what to say, what to write, I'm taken back to the memories I've shared with you—the memories I'd like to share. I remember the first time I met you on Minecraft; you invited me, a total stranger, into your home and shared resources with me. I never quite understood the irrational kindness and understanding you showed people you'd never met before, but that's what makes you, you.

I remember the magnificent spawns and bases you created on Hydrocity, admired by hundreds. You had such a talent for design, and I was always impressed by how you made anything look good. As HYG was shutting down, I felt sad, knowing I wouldn't be able to make any more memories with you, Angrytaco, ilikeceral, or the rest of the gang. But fate had other plans, and we were brought together again—this time through League. I remember our first game together, with a new crew: your soon-to-be close friends from the BlahBlah server. Throughout the countless hours we spent on that game, you never tilted or raged. I don't know how you managed it, but nothing ever fazed you, lol.

You were always a bit shy, but I remember the first time you spoke to us, using your horrible mic (that somehow sounded better after it broke) on Overwatch with Ramith, Amyr, and I. None of us expected your voice to be so deep, lol. I remember how you got almost everyone into FF and the epic moments you shared with everyone as you cleared dungeon after dungeon.

I remember it all. I'm sad you've left us, Chair. I'm sad we won't be able to create any more wonderful memories together, but you've left us with moments to last a lifetime. From the bottom of my heart, and from everyone who's ever met you, we love you, Chair.

“ Dear Victor, lovingly known as Chair,

In the 6 or so years I've known you, you've been a good friend, one of the funniest people I've met, and an extremely kind person. You were always willing to help me understand new games and freely gave resources when people were in need, albeit with a little ribbing.

I wish I could have spent more time with you and joined more calls with my hectic schedule but you will forever be in our hearts and memories. We love you always.

I hope you have found peace.

“ Dear Victor, whom we call Chair,

Even though I didn't know you as well or as long as some of the others, you were a great friend to all of us. You were one of the kindest people I've ever met. You made every game and call more fun with your sense of humor. I wish we'd had more time to become better friends, but our schedules never really lined up.

*Know that we will never forget you. Ever.
May you rest in peace.*

“ Dear Victor, whom we affectionately called Chair,

It's hard to express just how much you meant to all of us. You were more than just a friend; you were a cornerstone of our community and a source of positivity in every call and game. The countless hours we spent together, navigating the highs and lows of gaming, are memories I will treasure forever.

You brought light and laughter into our lives, even in frustrating games of League when we were infuriated and blaming each other (though no one could blame Chair—he was better than us at most games). You remained calm and collected, never casting blame on others, and you always knew how to diffuse the tension with a joke or meme, miraculously carrying us to victory.

It has been a privilege to know you and play games with you for nearly a decade. I will truly miss you, Chair. Your kindness and ability to uplift everyone around you will stay with us forever.

Rest in peace, my friend.

“ Dearest Victor,

Like everybody else, my heart breaks. For the more than 8 years that I've known you, your kindness and positive energy brought levity to your friends. Whenever a new survival build game came out, we'd always have a laugh about how you'd already be playing it. Whether it be going through a frustrating gaming experience or simply talking about everyday life, I knew I could count on you to make the best of the situation.

We were blessed to have you in our lives and will carry you with us always. I'll always smile at the mention of "Pontiac" until the day I hear it from you again. I love you; may you find peace, brother.

“ Dear Chair,

It's hard to convey in words how deeply meeting you has impacted myself and many others. We've known each other just shy of a decade playing just about every mildly infuriating game out there from League to FFXIV and WoW. We'd spend countless hours in voice just having a blast and your positive vibes maintained our sanity through the most frustrating/rigged gaming moments. Your kindness and empathy toward others was unmatched and drew people to you. I regret not spending more time with you this year despite the time difference but know that you will not be forgotten. Your memory will live on within myself, your friends, family, and within the online community we've built.

May you rest in peace brother.

“ Dearest Victor Simmons, or otherwise known as Chairbag to all your online friends. We never met each other in person, but with the time we spent online together as a group, I feel like I have known you for so long. No matter what we were doing in call, whether that be playing games, watching videos or just hanging out and talking to each other, you would always manage to liven up the group in some way.

Thank you Chair for being the one to introduce me to one of my favorite games, FF14. You always made time for me whenever I asked if we could go raiding together. Those days playing the game with you were some of the best days I ever had. From now to into the future, whenever I log into the game, I will always look back fondly at all the memories we had playing the game together.

Rest in peace Victor, and know that myself and all your online friends will never forget you and that we love you with all our hearts.

“ Dearest Victor, or our beloved Chair. I will always treasure the time we spent together having countless laugh's online, you were always the life of our group activities online, we will all remember the time dearly that we spent together playing games countless times into the early hours of the morning. You brightened all of our lives with your beautiful attitude and calmness, for which I will never forget. Rest in peace brother ❤️

“ We are all going to miss you Victor, or as you are known to us "Chair", whenever I joined a group chat with you I knew that it was going to be a laugh. Chair you were always the first to reach out to me when I was feeling rough, offering me a hand to stand up and get back into our group activity, Not once did you ever raise your voice at others and I really appreciate that. I am thankful that we met and played FF14 together with the lads.

Chair, you will not be forgotten as you are still one of founding members of our online community and what you helped to create will surely continue to grow into the vast future. I wish that i could have spent more time with you, to brighten your day like you did mine. Chair I loved our time spent together and I and the rest of our community will miss you greatly. You are beloved by us all in the UK. May you rest in peace.

“ Dearest Victor, known to us as Chair, there isn't much i can say that hasn't already been said. Your beautiful soul and kind heart touched us and truly left its impression on us deeply. You will never be forgotten and we miss you more with every day that passes. Your actions, humor, and creativity shall forever be imprinted on our lives and you shall never be forgotten. We love you with all our hearts!

“ I’m gonna miss you Chair, I loved your high energy vibes from the first moment I met you and you were such a blast to be around. You always were such a kind and gentle soul, always helping others without judgement. I’m glad we got to be friends and I’m even happier that we all played FF14 together, It’s one of my happiest memories with everyone. Thank you for being my friend and my co-healer, I will treasure the Chocorpokkur you gave me forever.

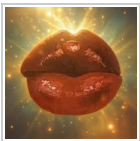

You’ve created such wonderful memories with all of us, I will never forget you Chair, I wish I could have spent more time with you, everyone is going to miss you sorely. I love you Chair, may you rest in peace.

“ Dear Victor, or as most of us knew you as "Chair", there is too much I needed to say and so little time. I've known you for over six years but that wasn't enough, we still had so many more memories to create and worlds to explore. You were a founding member who helped create an international community of friends and family who will never forget you. The countless hours we all spent in calls and games together are memories I will treasure forevermore. You were the kindest of souls always willing to help anyone without a second thought. I and many others have grown as people from your kindness and friendship. The world is a lonelier place without you, but as we learnt together with you, we will forge ahead until the end where we meet together again. I love you my brother.

“ Victor (or as we knew you, "Chair") you were our best friend. From Sri Lanka to Dubai to Canada and all over you touched our hearts. You were funny, had the best memes, and had a smooth NPR podcast voice. I'll miss listening to you talk and making random doodles on ProCreate and in Blender. I carry you in my heart forever, you were a true friend. We love you so much, and now you're with us forever.
